

Bio:

Brian is a regenerative agriculture consultant for Understanding Ag and a student of soil. His family's roots are planted in Northeast Iowa where he spent 17 years enrolled in the dairy farming school of hard knocks. He applies his passion for working with nature and his background as a farmer and agricultural engineer to help heal broken nutrient, water, and energy cycles and make farming fun again.

